

WE NOMINATE

Henry Stuart Patterson, II, the talented and long-working Mayor of the Borough of Princeton, whose direction of the New Jersey Conference of Mayors has reflected great credit on his municipality and has underscored his stature and continuing development as one of this state's political leaders. As Patterson, about to be 43 (on Tuesday, June 15), completed his one-year presidential term here last week at the Conference's Annual Forum, it was the consensus of observers, ranging from the chief executives of New Jersey cities to seasoned journalists, that Patterson — a Republican in the Democratic stronghold of Mercer County — is "a comer in Jersey."

It was in 1961 that Patterson, a native of New York and with a markedly Democratic family background, made his debut as a candidate for elective office. Active for several years in Republican organizations, but more closely aligned with Independents than with the standard-bearers of Republican orthodoxy, Patterson waged an energetic door-to-door campaign, shrewdly capitalized upon the emotionalism of Urban Renewal, and trounced the Democratic incumbent, Raymond F. Male. He capsuled his own approach to the mayoralty in these terms: "My entry into politics is as an interested citizen. I have no ambition in this field other than to serve the Borough."

Patterson's impact in public affairs has been gratifying to his early supporters and, year by year, more and more reassuring to those who envisioned in his election the re-creation of the stand-pat Republican hegemonies of pre-World War II years and the 1950's. An easy victor over former Borough Mayor Minot C. Morgan, Jr. in 1963, and now "running" for his third successive two-year term, the 53rd mayor in the Borough's history recalls the dedication of the late P. MacKay Sturges and, in some measure, the ebullience of Mayor Male in handling an ever-demanding and at times thankless assignment.

It is probable that Patterson, in a sense the spokesman for Princetonians who have established roots here since 1950, will never receive a higher tribute than he did late in 1961 after his success at the polls. He was interviewed in his Westcott Road home by a perceptive reporter who had campaigned against him as a Democratic Committeewoman in a toss-up Borough District. She concluded her profile of Patterson: "After two hours of animated talk, off the record and on, I told him I thought he had won the race because he is his own man and that I was sorry I had not voted for him."

As executive vice-president of the Elizabethtown Water Company, which in 1962 acquired control of the Princeton Company, the Mayor is a "driving commuter" who annually logs 4,000 miles between the Borough and Elizabeth. Patterson, whose background includes High Honors in Economics as a member of Princeton University's Class of 1944 and distinguished World War II service as an air observer with the Field Artillery, ranks among the "most available" of Borough Mayors of the past three decades and can point to a near-perfect attendance record when it comes to the myriad meetings that are an integral part of his life.

For striving to cope realistically with the thorny issues confronting the Princeton Area; for giving to Princeton the devotion and concern which he feels are the due of the "center we all love"; for speaking to his own convictions even in the face of peaking opposition; he is our nominee as

MERGER EXAMINED
At Public Hearing, Nearly 150 residents turned out for Tuesday's public hearing on the proposed Borough-Township school merger.

"This is a volatile issue," said Borough school board president Graham Rohrer at the onset of the session at Nassau Street School. Meeting that followed was to prove him wrong. At stake and up for public vote in October is the regionalization of two multimillion dollar school systems.

A number of Borough voters gave the impression that regionalization is regionalization, inevitable, others that it is desirable, and some were obviously battling hard to bring about solutions short of merger.

"All citizens want to know,"
Mrs. John H. Marks of 107
Moore Street told the Borough Board, "the precise form regionalization will take."

"Would a parent have the selection of where a child would go to school?" asked Mrs. Inez Aldridge. She was told no.

"I want my child to go to the John Witherspoon School, but according to this, he would go to Johnson Park. I don't

"The way it looks right now," said Charles Cornforth of 71 Westcott Road, "it looks like we are trying to appease the Township. This is distressing and is nothing this evening that always matters."

"Is there no other solution

DUNK A PIECE OF CHEESECAKE: This bit of vanilla cheesecake is Barbara Noble of Cranbury, this year's Queen of Hearts at the Dutch Neck School. Barbara, who is in eighth grade, will be available for dunking Saturday at the Girl Dunk, West Windsor PTA Fair. We hasten to add that Barbara is not making this sacrifice alone; former Queens of Hearts will also be dunked, to give the 1965 Queen a chance to dry out.

Orren J. Turner of 38 Hamilton Avenue wanted to know "If you have a legal opinion from the State Department of Education on the question, once we are regionalized, can we get out of it if we don't like it?"

There was laughter and scattered applause. Board attorney William Miller replied. Under the present law, there is no provision for getting out. This opinion has been confirmed by the assistant commissioner of education."

Buckland Replies. Mr. Turner, he quoted a recent statement by Mr. Rohrer, "All of the major objectives of the Township, the Borough already has. What about that?"

John A. Buckland of the board stated, "Regionalization has the backing of both school superintendents. We are convinced of the educational advantages of merger. The junior high school would be better."

There were gasps of disbelief from some of the residents. "If a child in the Borough junior high gets into a low section, even though he may be bright in one or two subjects, he doesn't get out."

We have too few children in the Borough junior high to schedule separately. The Township gets superior results. He noted that it would cost $80,000 a year to add sufficient teachers to the Borough junior high.

"You talk about numbers and if you don't have enough, you can't have a good program," said one woman. "According to what you say about the merger of the two boards, there will be a decreased percentage of vocational students."

Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg of the board told her, "Vocational facilities will be expanded within the next year, the merger or not." He added, "The Princeton Plan isn't being abandoned, either. It is being expanded." There was a flutter of applause and laughter.

More Questions. Mrs. John McLaughlin of 37 Hodge Road asked why the 6th grade (approximately 15 homes) would have to be concentrated in the Valley Road School. There is not quite enough room at the John Witherspoon School for all of the 6th grade," Mr. Buckland said. "We were first assured that 6th grade will be in with 5th, from the standpoint of development," said Mrs. William E. Speers of 68 Moore Street.

Mrs. Berolice Miller, who with Mr. Rohrer has reservations about regionalization, told the residents, "Here are the facts. We have certain things in the Borough that the Township would like to have."

She cited the kindergarten through 12th grade system, control of the high school "and we are going to have a K through 8 grade school that has outstanding facilities." Under regionalization, she noted, three kindergarten sections starting at the new school would progress to Community Park for grades 1-4 to a third school for 5th and 6th grade and back to Witherspoon for 6th and 8th grades.

Many expressed a wish to add into the Nassau school teaching unit. Mrs. Marks suggested that the faculty and kindergarten through 4th grade be transferred to the John Witherspoon School. "On gradually regionalize, using the new building for undergarments through 8th grade for a few years.

Mr. Turner, opening the report of the Borough and Township boards to page 45, asked for clarification of costs. "In event of regionalization," Mr. Turner said, "the current operating expenses would be taken into consideration in the number of pupils." The cost based on daily enrollment, would cause no significant change in the school tax rates in either Borough or Township.

"I think," said one woman on the question of busing Negro children to the various schools "that we are asking the Negro people of this community to make a sacrifice that we would not want to make ourselves."

The busing program has been arranged to take care of both Negro and white children, board member Thomas Moore told her. "But there is a further consideration," she said. "If the mother works and the child is sick at school, he can't just walk home."

"Let's join hands," Thomas Moore said. "Most people seem to take the position that if you are a Borough resident, you are going to give some thing up. But it is a case of joining hands with the Township for a better, overall system. It is true that the John Witherspoon School would give the best education kindergarten through 8th grade, but let's spread it around. Mrs. Speers, who noted that the plan to vote for regionalization inquired about the timetable for the interior work of the new school. "It would be unethical to begin work at the school before the high school, even from the sense of a meeting such as tonight, before the referendum in October."

Mr. Rohrer stated that the classrooms, gymnasium, cafeteria all fit into the approved plans for junior high schools. He said he had no major objections for laboratories and minor items, involving a relatively small amount of money. Mrs. Murray Devlin of 27 Lewisville Lane, a teacher at Littlebrook School, asked what would be the future of Princeton High School if the Township built its own high school.

Dr. Stroup Comments. "It seems to me," said School Superintendent Chester Stroup, "that you have touched upon the Number One reason for merging. I don't see how it will be economically possible for the Township to maintain the high school in 1975 if the Township pulls out."

Montgomery Township will have gone, and Hopewell Borough, West Windsor is presently working with its own planning board for a site in the event they find it necessary or desirable to build their own high school. Planners here will have to, but I have heard there will be discussions in Rocky Hill."

"I want to speak for a minute as a board member," said Mr. Rohrer. "The reason Montgomery Township and West Windsor are not out of our high school is because they want to stay. As long as we supply bargain education at the bargain price, we pay. I don't think they'll leave."

He cited population figures for the high school for 1970-71 — "slightly fine projections more recent than the figures in the Blue Book. Assuming that we have West Windsor, Rocky Hill, Plainsboro, Princeton Borough and some of St. Paul's graduates, the high school population would be 1,296. It says 921 in the Blue Book." The projection showed populations of 1,247 in 1971-73, 1,322 in 1972-73 and 1,363 in 1973-74.

"The high school worked its best at the 1972-73 population, which is the same we had in 1957-58. We have the maximum teacher-student relationship. Applause."

Let's Be Practical! "Just let's be practical about 1975," inserted Mrs. Sarah Strayer, board vice-president. "If we heard these population figures, we would face this problem of regionalization once more. Do you want to go through this again?" There was several laughter. Then Mrs. H. W. Leverenz of 23 Westcott Road, Princeton PTA president, stated, "I have had children in the school system for 19 years now. One child graduated nine years ago and I have two in the high school now. I have seen a great improvement."

"It is possible," Theodore D. Vreeland of 17 Aiken Avenue, wanted to know, "to compare the difference between the two school systems?"

"I would say," hazarded Professor Robert A. Lively of the board, "that the Borough has a slight edge in English and languages, while the Township has an edge in mathematics and science. But with students from the outlying areas, the range is very great."

Mrs. Robert Cawley of 228 Western Way said as the discussion turned to Township withdrawal, "I am sobered by the prospect of the loss for the Borough children if the Township pulls out. We have and work together."

A Few Final Thoughts. The meeting closed promptly at 10:30 as planned, dissolving into discussion groups in the halls and on the sidewalks. "How is the Township going to pay for a new high school?" one man asked another. "Where are they going to get the money?"

"Is the Township bluffing?" a woman asked another. "No," she was told. "There are some Township board members determined to merge the school."

McKenna (Township school superintendent) himself said at Littlebrook School that it would take 20 years to pay for it."

Another voice, "What we need are three boards of education, one for the high school — one for the middle school."

"All this talk about regionalization — who's minding the store?"

LAPLACA WINS

Can a Build Apartments. Charles LaPlaca won a summary judgment against the Borough in Superior Court Friday and now he can build 40 apartment units on the three acres of land he owns next to the Borough's proposed elderly housing project on North Harrison Street.

In another legal battle, Mr. LaPlaca is seeking to prevent condemnation of that same housing project. He owns it and has refused to sell it to the Princeton Housing Authority. Counsel for the Authority has instituted condemnation proceedings.

When Mr. LaPlaca decided to build apartments on the land he owns next to what the Housing Authority wants, he went before the Borough Zoning Board for a variance. Apartments are not "permitted use" in the area.

The Board granted his variance, as it had the Housing Authority's variance, but Borough Council, on June 19, 1964, rejected the zoning recommendation and told Mr. LaPlaca he could not build.

Must Have Facts. Judge George H. Barlow of Superior Court said in his decision that there simply weren't any facts in the record to justify Council's refusal.

"While it is true that the Mayor and Council may properly reach different conclusions from those reached by the Zoning Board, they may do so only when the record reasonably admits of a difference of opinion. Where, as here, the record compels only one conclusion, the governing body may not ignore the record and arbitrarily deny the relief sought."

Mayor Henry S. Patterson, commenting on the decision, said that he and Hugh D. Wise, special Borough counsel in the case, are disturbed about precedent.

"We're concerned that the FIVE BABY RABBITS made a return visit to the Littlebrook School Monday where they were found in the grass last Thursday by a group of second graders. Now about 16 days old, Flopsy, Nipper, Cottonball, Peter and Jumper have been cared for around the clock by Mrs. William MacMichael of 99 Fox Road. Above (from left) are Kendall Price, Jane Martin, Mrs. MacMichael and Wendy Peterson. (Staff Photo)

Judge is really saying, "You must have a case," a transcript, almost," Mayor Patterson said. "This means that the Borough might have to become an adversary in every zoning case, so that a complete legal and factual record would be on hand if the matter goes to court, even if somebody just wanted to build a export."

As it is now, Mr. Wise observed, the municipality is not an adversary. "A board or Council listens, considers the facts and makes a decision. There is usually no compilation of evidence to spell out precisely why, legally and factually, the governing body says 'No.'"

The Borough has 45 days in which to file an appeal. So far, no decision about appeal has been made.

"BRADLEY COURT"
Residents Ask Change, Bill Bradley may receive a grade

ation present from Princeton Township. Twelve of the 15 residents of Gullick Road have petitioned Township Committee to change the name of their street to "Bradley Court" in honor of the young basketball star, and they hope the change can be made before he graduates next month.

Committee heard the petition Monday night without flickering an eye, although Mayor Carl C. Schaefer did say, "It's an unusual request." Committee took the matter under advisement, but had so much to do in executive session that Bradley Court is still waiting for the starting whistle.

Kenneth S. Werkman, 82 Gullick Road, sponsored the petition. Other signers are Richard Griggs, Leland Merrill Jr., Charles W. McKee, Frederick A. Cook, Barbara S. Geisler, Mr. and Mrs. William Herbold, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Hilton, Thomas L. Brophy, Pearce T. Rayner, Herbert L. Rosenthal and Gerald A. Speedy.

Who Pays. Nobody likes to pay for things like new sewers and newly-paved streets. Except, presumably, two residents of Race Street, Alfred Kamegway, 31 Race, and H. Arthur Douglas Jr., 30 Race, were each assessed about $800 for the $1,623 Race Street sewer. Neither showed up Monday night to protest, and Committee accepted the assessors' report in less than a minute.

But Princeton University, Dean Mathey, Abbot Low Mathey and Mrs. Robert V. Duley all appeared before Committee to protest their assessed share of paying a segment of Pretty Brook Road.

The gist of their lengthy arguments, heavily buttressed with legal citations:

• The properties do not benefit from the paving in fact, Frank Reiche, representing Mr. Mathey and the University, joint owners of one parcel, said that the University would want to sell it at a higher price after paving.

Round-Up

BRADLEY FOR GULICK: From the belief that the Bill Bradley era in Princeton should not come to an end with his graduation next month, but should be perpetuated for the generation of disenfranchised residents of Gulick Road this week a petitioned Township Committee to change the name of their street to "Bradley Court." (See Topics of the Town.)

Meanwhile, his classmates on campus were paying him the ultimate tribute: fraternal proof that none of the countless droves of accolades directed his way had in any sense increased the size of his head. He came with the 1965 Class Poll, which cited Bill Bradley as "Most Popular," "Most Respected," and "Most Likely to Succeed."

TREND OF THE TIMES: Inevitably, the Class Poll is a reflection of current campus terminology. The Class of '65's predecessors 30 years ago voted one of their number "Frodo," and the tradition remains today, but 1935 never conceived of fangling one of its members as "Grungey," which, freely translated, is "Mid-Twenty."

Other inter-day taglines: "Most Confused by Women," "Most Gung-Ho," "Fiercest Bird Dog," and "Straightest Arrow," this last presumably the designation for one who never weaves from the straight and narrow. Apparently some who once enjoyed such a reputation do, however, and for them there is also a slot—obviously, "Ex-Straightest Arrow."

HUMAN SKETCHES: The Trenton Clown Club, long a favorite at the Hospital Fete, will return with its act this year but would like to round it off. If you're any good on stage—the higher, the better—call Walt "Wofo" Savage, Chief Clown, at 685-6222.

A LOOK INSIDE: "Wonderful Town" was a sentimental howl. TOWN TOPICS' chief Katharine Brenell reports in News of the Tiverton, which also tells what happens to the youngest members of the Princeton Ballet Society when "Sleeping Beauty" is revived after an eight-year lapse (pages 3-B)... a look at end-of-the-season art exhibits is provided on page 26, and a run-down on more of the concert books for next year is provided in Music in Princeton, Page 24.

Princeton's giant stride toward another Ivy title in lacrosse is detailed in the sports section, as are the numerous achievements of the high school's fine track team... Little League Football is scheduled to make its Princeton debut in the fall... (page 11-36).

Three letters expressing appreciation on various counts are addressed to Malibou (page 17)... a sizable tract of land has changed ownership and is earmarked for immediate residential development... Business in Princeton, page 25... vandalism and theft continue find their way into notice reports, some of the crime traceable to boys not yet in their teens.

LOCAL MOVE: When Mrs. Marie H. Katzenbach of Princeton resigned last winter after marked five years service on the State Board of Education, it was found that another Princeton woman had named to succeed her.

This week, Gov. Richard J. Hughes announced his choice Mrs. Marjorie G. Epstein of 7 Little Brook Road, Westport, president of the Township Board of Education and long a guiding spirit in its affairs, was immediately approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

virtually assuring her a seat on the board.

HOW DRY WE ARE: The makings of a drought are at hand again, partially because the spring season has not produced normal rainfall to date. Despite all those damp chill days, but even more so because this is a continuation of a trend that is now measured in years. In some sections of the east, precipitation has been seriously below average since 1961.

Last week was a good example: just 22 inches of rain, with the result that with the month now about two-thirds gone, less than a third of what we need has fallen. Temperature ranges, meanwhile, are about ideal: lows around 45 to 50, highs in the mid 70s to low 80s.

Linger Awhile

Home on sight
To Invert May
In one more week
She'll slip away.

Not that June will be unwelcome, but May just could be the loveliest month of the year around here. After even the briefest look at the countryside, it's hard to let otherwise.

Nice as it is, it's been too dry, and that will continue for a while longer. Showers are a possibility along about Friday, but there is no real rain in sight.

THE COLOR DIED OUT: New Jersey automobile drivers whose licenses expire are no longer asked to give the color of their hair, marking an end to a means of identification that is almost as old as the horsetail carriage itself.

The reason? For the first time, a woman (Miss June Sturtevant is head of the State's Motor Vehicle Department, and without being easily about it, she reports that so many of her sex change the color of their hair so often that the question on the license is virtually meaningless.

Today's brunettes is tomorrow's redhead—and possibly next month's blonde. Accordingly, New Jersey has become the sixth state to grant women the prerogative of dyeing their hair without having to report the change when their license comes up for renewal.

EDUCATION

Your children deserve the benefits of a higher education. In today's world they may be penalized by not having the opportunity.

If you count on their ability to win a scholarship, it might be surprising to know that only 1 out of 5 students secures a scholarship and the average benefit is less than $300, a year. College and university costs are many times that amount.

Right now is the time to shape a savings program to pay the costs of advanced education for your children. A program based on average college and university costs starts right here at your personal service bank. All you need do is ask one of our service officers to outline a workable savings program for you. Walk right in today and ask for this free planning assistance.

News Of The THEATRES

"WONDERFUL" TOWN
P. J. & B. Musical What wonderful tradition the P. J. & B. musical has become. "Tradition," of course, is much too sagey a word to describe the bounce and spirit of a P. J. & B. production and the bounce and the flair have rarely been more on stage than they were last weekend for "Wonderful Town."

It was a delight, all around. You started out with the twin pianists at the overture and as soon as you saw the head-casting ring of Nancy Ford at piano number one, you knew that "Wonderful Town" was going to pound away, straight and fast, to a sure final curtain.

The Leonard Bernstein musical, by lyrics by Comden and Green, was adapted along in 1953 from the play "My Sister"

"I'M 'THE WRECK'." This is football. If you can believe it, The most clearly identifiable character is David Anderson (left, sort of), who plays "The Wreck" ("a ramblin' wreck from Trenton Tech...") in P.J. & B.'s "Wonderful Town." Everybody else is in the chorus. But they never expected this when they signed up to sing.

Eileen. "That's the one about the two sisters from Ohio, the plain, smart one named Ruth, who writes stories and wants to break into 'The Manhattan' magazine, and the pretty dumb one, Eileen, who has busy business as a sort of fuzzy goal, but who really has to spend most of her time depicting the men."

I've been turning you over in my mind ever since I met you, say one of them.

Anne Sheldon is a splendid bath warm, earthy and foot-on-the-ground smart. It's hard to believe, in fact, that men desert her the minute they see the pretty Eileen, but that's what the script says. Debbie Truxal, Auburn haired and sweet, is a charming Eileen, and the men desert her. Why. Oh Why. Oh. Did We Ever Leave Ohio? blends Miss Truxal, clear soprano and Mrs. Sheldon's husky contralto with charming effect.

Well, there are all kinds of songs after a Menonabeles are "A Sure Way to Lose A Man" 100 of them, according to Ruth, who seems to be feeling, ruefully, that she is master of them. A Little Bit in Love" which Debbie Truxal carries off with unusual clarity. "A Quiet Girl" sung by Ken Verostock as Bob, the young cutie who always seems to fall for brash young babes when all he wants is peace and quiet.

Actually, Bernstein hasn't written a really mediocre score and "Wonderful Town" has no haunting tunes like the ones in "West Side Story." Instead there are strong intricate rhythms, a full orchestra without a mis-step, and richly comes across, even with two pianos, percussion and clarinet instead of a full orchestra. The great thing about P. J. & B.'s "Wonderful Town" is Jay Harbeck's direction. Fast, imaginative and sure. He must have had close to a hundred clients, dressed in Shirley Renne's nostalgic 1930's costumes and sauntering along to a Greenwich Village street, dancing to the movement of a subway, shoving each other out of the way in a New York City rush hour, scrimmaging in a football game with — was it a cabbage — as the football, or massing on about seven different levels (McCarteer contributed its Shakespeare stage) in a slickly managed night-club scene.

That Mr. Harbeck could do all this with an amateur chorus — well, "semi-pro" — and keep "Wonderful Town" moving at the speed of an express subway, says a very, very great deal, for him as a director.

But this production of "Wonderful Town" is more than mechanics: it is imagination as well, and here is where McCarver's scenery moves for you. Using almost every piece of machinery in the McCarver shop, Mr. McCarver slides in and out, raises or lowers: Christopher Street, the Brooklyn Navy Yard, a basement apartment whose walls shake with subway rumbling and perhaps most exciting of all, the "Vortex" nightclub (his dancing couples moving in Gil Hare's red lightning against the naked brick walls of McCarver Street, complete with hanging radiators).

"Wonderful Town" and previous productions like "Shogun" last year, show what can be done with a mixed cast of pros, semi-pros and amateurs if the guiding hand is a strong professional one and the technical people, like Mr. Harbeck and Mr. McCarver, have the professional resources of a full-overgrown professional.

Because the overall impression you have, leaving the theatre, is that P. J. & B. show is one of professionalism. Individual performances are good, sometimes better, than "Wonderful Town" has its share of performers that are amateurish indeed, but within the sure, professional frame they don't seem to matter much.

One of the added professional touches this year, by the way, was a special chorus of dancers recruited from Princeton's dancing schools. Thirty of these young people, coached to the last step by Joan Morton Lucas, provided lively and imaginative color for "Selling," in which Maria Powers was a fine saleswoman, "Vortex Ball" and the "Wrong Note Rag."

This was the fifth annual P. J. & B. production — hardly seems possible that so much time has gone by since "Gypsies and Dolls" started it all back in 1961. "Wonderful Town" makes it fun to look ahead to '66.

WHY NOT CLIP & SAVE FOR REFERENCE

SECRET AGENT 607 boids forth this week in two Ian Fleming stories, "From Russia With Love" and "Dr. No," the double bill at both the Playhouse and Prince Theatres. Above in a "From Russia" scene, Sean Connery as James Bond protects the inevitable beauty, Daniela Bianchi.

New Of The Theatres

of spies and counterespionage authored by Ian Fleming and directed by Sean Connery at James Bond.

In "Dr. No," James Bond arrives in Jamaica to investigate the murder of a British agent. He falls into a network of evil, masterminded by the brilliant Chinese scientist, Dr. No. There is a kidnapping, a cliff-side car crash, and a hair-raising escape in a speedboat with Ursula Andress, all in Technicolor.

Bond deliberately walks into a trap laid by Soviet agent Daniela Bianchi in "From Russia With Love." He's out to get the secret Russian decoder. His fantastic adventures, played tongue-in-cheek, are spiced with intricate traps and fabulously beautiful women.

GARDEN

Nothing But A Man (now playing) is an eloquent statement against race prejudice. The settings are simple, haunting re-creations of the world of the Southern Belle. The camera invades the run-down barn, the respectable, middle-class homes, and the squalid ghettos.

Primarily, it is a love story, recounting the romance of the preacher's daughter and a restless, devil-may-care railroad section hand who comes to her small town for what he expects will be a few weeks. Before he knows what has hit him, he is in love, getting married and settling down.

It isn't easy, for the hero, played by Tim Davis, is a proud man. He is contemptuous of his father-in-law's "Uncle Tom" attitude toward the whites. His desire to encourage other Negroes to speak out leads him into difficulties. Abbey Lincoln plays the role of the young wife who has committed herself to staying in the town and working to better conditions there for her people.

The film abounds with little insights which when put together, create good drama.

HOW TIME FLIES!

Young Dancers. Grow. Back in 1957, when the Princeton Ballet Society last presented "The Sleeping Beauty," three very young dancers were ladies of the chorus. Now, with "The Sleeping Beauty," ready once again for performance (McCarrier, May 28 and 29), these three will be seen in leading roles.

Dorothy Bishop was a very small Fairy Page and a Snow Flake in 1957. This year, she will dance Carabosse, the Evil Fairy whose curse sends the Princess Aurora into her deep sleep.

Linda Hart, a little Butterfly in 1957, will dance one of the solo fairy roles in this new production and Margery Hart who was a Blue Bird eight years ago, has been transformed into a leading Ballerina in the current "Sleeping Beauty."

Other young performers in the 1957 presentation have gone on to professional dance careers. Eleanor Coffee, who danced Princess Aurora herself, was a dancer on Broadway in "No Strings," and is now with the national company of "How to Succeed in the Business of the World." She also traveled with the national company of "My Fair Lady."

Carol Ealey, whose parents directed the Princeton Ballet Society, will be featured in "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," scheduled to open later in May at the Paper Mill Playhouse. Previously she danced in "Continued on Page 8."

THIS IS A DOUBLE BED: It may not look like it, but such is the case. Convertible couches at the Castro show-room in Trenton tend to look exactly like sofas and not at all like the beds they can become when guests arrive for the night. Single, three-quarter, full king size beds for six-footers on your guest list, are all available at the Trenton store.

IT'S NEW To Us

WELCOME YOUR GUESTS
 They Can Stay All Week.
 Next time unexpected guests show up, all you have to do—as they they say in the commercials—is to unveil the Castro Convertible and send them off to a comfortable bed.

We ought to say right now that the kind of Castro Convertible we mean is the kind you sleep in, because Castro also makes convertible tables and reclining lounge chairs and table lamps. (Sure, a table lamp converts on and off.)

Castro's show-room is in Trenton at 143 North Olden Avenue Extension—easy to reach from Princeton, as you know.

The variety in this store is astonishing. The company makes more than 100 different styles in convertible furniture, including six different Italian provincial pieces, and an extraordinary number of early American designs.

These Early American ones struck our fancy particularly, and we think they'll appeal to you, too. The "Ambers," for example, is the trimmest love-seat you could imagine: wonderful for a guest-room study or a small living-room. It's a wing design, but the wings are cut back somewhat to give a neater side to this small piece.

Open it up, and the "Ambers" is a complete single bed.

If you need more sleeping accommodations, the "Ambers" sectional, in two or three pieces, is just for you. One of the sections can open up to a three-quarter bed or a full, king size, depending on your choice. Then comes the curving, corner part of the couch, and then a second "bed," if you need a lot of dormitory space.

The "Dolly Madison" is an Early American wing couch, 74 inches long, with two seat cushions and a tufted back. If your living-room is really spacious, you'll want the 90-inch "Winney Longfellow" with its diamond-tufted back and two cushions.

The "Valley Forge" has sturdy maple arms and frame with a single back cushion and two tufted ones to sit on.

All these early American styles have matching chairs.

WIDE-AWAKE BEAUTIES: The youngest members of "The Sleeping Beauty" cast display as much poise and grace as their elders, as they pose between rehearsals on the steps of the Ballet Society studio. Student dancers affiliated with the Society will dance Tchaikovsky's ballet in McCarter on May 28 and 29. The ballet was given by the Society back in 1957, and who knows—maybe the next time around one of these fledglings will be The Sleeping Beauty herself.

News Of The Theatres

"Golden Boy" and in the national company of "Little Bo" she was the White Bird in the 1957 "Sleeping Beauty." Kathleen Halli, a Snowflake in 1957, is now studying at the Metropolitan School of Ballet in New York. She returned to Princeton for a featured solo role in the Princeton Regional Ballet's "Les Sylphides." This year's "Sleeping Beauty" will be given at 8:30 on Friday, May 28 and at 2:30 on Saturday, May 29.

DANCING ON THE LAWN

Ballet Benefit. The dancers of the Princeton Regional Ballet will dance in the garden of the Princeton Inn Sunday at 4:30 in a "dinner" planned for the benefit of the Regional Ballet.

Mrs. John Roberts is chairman of a sponsoring committee consisting of Mesdames Thorne Lord, C. Reinold, Koyes, R. S. Pierpont, C. M. Schuler, Stanton Waterman and Eugene Wilcock. Wendell Eaty, George C. Ford, Al Lewis, T. Mason, Rayner Meyer and H. C. Sturaba are also on the committee.

"KISMET" COMING

To Lambertville. After "The King and I" completes its May 29-June 6 run, the Lambertville Music Circus will unveil its production of "Kismet," the musical whose tunes were adapted from the music of Jarodini. Songs like "Stranger in Paradise," "Fate," "This Is My Beloved" and "The Olive Tree" will be remembered by those who saw the show on Broadway, where it ran for two seasons.

In Lambertville, "Kismet" will play from June 8 to June 12 to be followed on June 13 by "A Funny Thing Happened on the way to the Forum," a newcomer to the Lambertville repertoire, which will be on view through the Fourth of July.

But don't leave after the Fourth, because the week of July 6-11 will be devoted to "Bye, Bye Birdie" and July 12 through July 18 will be "The Sound of Music." Last year, "The Sound of Music" was a record-breaker, held for two weeks of sellout business and brought back for an additional week at the end of the season.

Theatre parties for the season are now being booked by the big tent, and information may be obtained by writing The Music Circus, Lambertville, N. J. or calling 397-1500.

ACROSS THE RIVER

And Into Bucks County. "Mary, Mary" will continue to creep audiences at the Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope, through Saturday, May 29, with Shari Lewis of television renown starring in Jean Kerr's comedy.

After "Mary, Mary," the New Hope theatre will present "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" Edward Albee's controversial play that won the New York Drama Critics Circle Award as the best play of the 1962-63 season. It will open on May 31 and will run through June 12.

Colleen Dewhurst and James Daly will co-star in the Albee play and Rebecca Darke and Dan Tattersall will round out the cast of four as the young couple, Honey and Nick.

Also Dewhurst will be remembered by Playhouse audiences for "Witness for the Prosecution" and "A View from the Bridge." Mr. Daly has appeared on the New Hope stage in "The Advocate" and "Jenny Kissed Me."

It's My Own!

The pleasure of creating as well as executing a piece of handwork is almost palpably evident in a group of hand hooked rugs now on view in a Palmer Square window of Clayton's.

The little rugs were designed and made by eight Princeton women who spent the winter months in a class given by Ann Wiseman Denz.

The women searched out all the new fabric they could find—bits from mill-end shops, scraps from sewing baskets, pieces from the Salvation Army. Choosing their own blending colors and working out their own designs, they traced out their patterns on the backing. Then they cut the wool fabric into thin strips and gradually brought their design to life using a standard hand hook.

summer comfort? It's a sandal with bars between the sole and the encircling strap. Come in a pair of bronze, or gold and orange.

Sandler eschews anything so theatrical and offers its fans two sandals, one with an "X" across the instep, another with each lined with a soft rope that overhangs and makes a pleasant frame for the dark leather of the strap.

For town (depending on which town, naturally) you'll pick that Corban spectator with the small maple heel. If you've given up spectators because you're tired of trying to keep white shoe polish off the navy or brown, Corban is the way. It's that donut stuff, you know, and you just wipe it clean with a damp cloth, as though it were a kitchen counter, $14.99, by Airstep.

Four children, assuming you can get them to wear shoes at all, are probably going to live in Hult's all-leather sandals, the one with the extra support in the arch.

IT'S FUN TO BE CREWEL. Give 'em the Needle. Crewel work continues to fascinate the lady who's nimble with a needle, and The Knitting Shop on Tulane suspects that this very lady will occupy her summer making a crewel thistle on a burrill pillow.

This is a real thistle, too, with shaggy petals hanging loose. Its friend, the sunflower, also has a dangling head of yarn, and so do the whorled red flower whose name escapes us at the moment. Anyhow, all these flowers have loose-hanging yarn to give the effect of real, shaggy felt and petal forms. A rope and two circles the pillow, just so you'll know its burrill and casual.

In a more formal vein, you can do the crewel work in a pair of pictures, each with its own walnut frame. Fruit is the subject, overflowing from a compote. A fish, a stylized lizard or a cat are all in the crewel frame collection.

Perhaps you'd like something to identify you as a crewel expert. Take home The Knitting Shop's burrill tote bag that loops over your arm and can stand upright when you set it down. You may want a tree of life or a butterfly-flower design. Afterward, you insert the lining and the zipper and there you are! Another Knitting Shop bag is actually a basket (three sizes). You line it with the quilted chintz that comes with the kit. Then you take the wide black velvet ribbon and run it, insertion fashion, all around the basket, ending with a bow. Using gold wire yarn, you make your initials in grosgrain and fasten the initiated about to the outside of the basket.

"I'M SORRY!" said James Fig, 10, of 350 Riverside Drive as he recalled himself for another sweat by a wet spoon. "I've been here ten minutes and I guess they've hit me a hundred times!" The sponge throw was one of the great successes of Saturday's Princeton Country Day School Fair. (Staff Photo)

Topics Of The Town

● In the mid-30's, many Township roads were paved at public expense, including Pretty Brook.

● Some assessed lots back up to Pretty Brook instead of fronting on it, and therefore benefit even less than others.

The Township paving rule for streets like Pretty Brook is to pay one-third and assess property owners the remaining two-thirds.

"We didn't feel the benefit was equal to two-thirds," explained Theodore Kane, of the assessors' board. "That's why the Township is agreeing to pay $11,000 of the $20,000 cost." And he added that the assessors had already reduced some of the levies after the usual property owners' hearing before the board. Mr. Smith did say that Mr. Wolf's bill had been reduced from $1,450 to $1,000.

Good Old Days. Henry J. Frank, 125 Valley Road, observed from the floor that things were different in the 30's. "In those days, a town the size of the Township received more state aid than today and, besides, the county contributed road materials."

Joseph H. Nial, Township administrator, said that two Pretty Brook pavings, in 1929 and 1931, had been assessed to property owners.

"I should think that a man who buys property on an un-surveyed street would expect to be assessed eventually for paving," remarked Committeeman William L. Wilson, "and paving adds to value."

Mr. Wilson moved that the Township agree to pay for two-thirds of the job instead of one-third, but nobody seconded his motion and he withdrew it.

"I'd like to decide this right now," commented Mayor Schafer, after a motion to table had been made, but he was out-voted, 4-1, and the matter was set aside for discussion.

Now, Sewers. Things started all over again when assessments for part of The Great Road sewer came before Committee. "Tenacre," assessed about $28,000 for the $28,819 sewer, said that it had its own satisfactory sewer treatment plant, so efficient that its effluent was "like a babbling brook" for cleanliness and purity.

"It's only fairly useable," replied Township engineer Frank Quinby. "You get odor problems in the summer."

threatened the institution with even more assessments, and he compared the "Tenacre" levy with the Sacred Heart levy which he called "nominal."

At this, Albridge C. Smith, representing Sacred Heart as well as Mr. Moffat, retorted that the school was giving free access for The Great Road re-assignment. "Tenacre" assessments for this reassignment are still being negotiated, and had cost $100,000 a main trunk sewer.

Sacred Heart, like the University, is a commercial de-veloper as well as a school, and several lots near the school property are being sold for homes.

In the end, the Great Road sewer went back to the assess-ment, and the University, as property owner had neglected to tell the assessing board that he was already hooked into a sewer.

"Speaking as a taxpayer," said Mr. Frank again, "all this talk of 'no benefit' just means that the Township picks up the tab and that means a higher tax rate."

Mayor Schafer assured him that the Township had no in-tervention in picking up the whole tab.

In other business, Commit-tee adopted a resolution in-suring "no discrimination" in the use of Federally-financed "Open Space" land, specifi-cally the Harpor property, ap-pointed Mrs. Henry Frank to the Mercer County Prose-cutor's Committee on Clean Lit-erature, refused to reduce the Brookstone Part B bond be-cause work remains to be done

MAN OF THE WEEK: "For giving to Princeton the devo-tion and concern which he feels are the due of the town we all love," Mayor Patterson is on the cover of the week's TOWN TOPICS.

In the area, passed an ordi-nance providing $3,000 for a feasibility study of the Harpor property and an ordinance ap-proving the subdivision ordi-nance to provide a steep in-crease in the fees a developer must pay to lay his plans be-fore the Planning Board. "A simple recovery of costs, not revenue," said Gordon Griffin, Township attorney.

Public hearing on all ordi-nances on June 7.

WOMAN HURT IN CRASH
Condition Still Critical. The widow of a 57-year-old town ship widow was still listed as "critical" Tuesday by Prince-ton Hospital, some 20 hours af-ter her car left the roadway on M. Lutes Road near Poor Farm Road. Township police who were unable to question the victim because of the serious-ness of her injuries, said there were no witnesses to the mis-hap.

When Patrolman Michael Koplin arrived at the scene Monday evening at 6, he re-ported seeing a Jeep a P.O.'s the shoulder of the road, up an embankment and lying back-wards. The driver, Mrs. Ann L. Porter of Cherry Valley Road was lying partially in the car and partially on the roadway.

Mrs. Porter was unconscious and breathing heavily, accord-ing to Pil. Koplin. She was un-derwent surgery Tuesday morn-ing for treatment of severe head injuries. There was no visible damage to the Jeep, police said, who added they found no tire or skid marks.

Thursday afternoon at 3:22, an 11-year-old bicyclist re-ceived a concussion and broken shoulder when she fell, broad-side, into a car at the intersec-tion of Terhune Road and Gro-ver Avenue. Mrs. Florence Marston, 40, 36 Marion Road, was the driver.

According to the police re-port, Mrs. Marston, driving on Terhune, had just entered the intersection when a Kathleen Strother, 11, riding on Grover, hit her car on the right side.

One witness said the girl was tossed perhaps 10 feet into the air. She landed on the hood of the car and then fell to the roadway.

Kathleen was taken to Prince-ton First Aid and Rescue squad. Police made no charges.

Outmaneuvered. Last Wed-nesday morning a Trenton motor-ist required 15 minutes in his forehead to close a gash he re-ceived in a two-car accident on Mercer Road's Stony Brook Bridge.

The entire front end of Ed-ward B. Accetta's 1965 sports car was damaged when he ran into the rear of a stopped car operated by Mrs. Gerald Ad-derty, 26, also of Trenton. Mr. Accetta, 47, told Township Po-lice he was driving in the op-posite direction of the car on the cover of the week's TOWN TOPICS.

Ad-derty narrowly and she stopper her car on the bridge. He was unable to stop time, he said. There were no charges.

Rain and the addition of a finely ground stone surface to Rosedale Road combined to trigger two related accidents which occurred a few minutes apart two Monday mornings.

As he rounded a curve near General Robert Johnson's drive-way, John Pirone, 40, 22 Hill-side Road, told police he hit a slippery spot, causing his car to spin across the roadway and come to rest against an embank-ment. While he was awaiting assistance, a car came over the crest of the hill, braked, and skidded into his car, Pirone con-tinued.

The second driver, E. A. Phi-lippe, 67 W. Broad Street, Hopewell, reported he saw the dis-abled car and Mr. Pirone wailing a flashlight but when he ap-plied his brakes his car went into a skid. Neither driver was in-lured.

Township police added that the upper section of Rosedale had been under last week and covered with a quarry-dust-like material. When it rains, as it was at the time of the accident, the surface of the road becomes slippery as a result.

"We were lucky this time — there were no injuries. The next time we may not be so lucky," said Chief James B. Campbell, Jr.

his car as it was parked behind Dial Lodge. A second car, belonging to a guest at Dial, had one of its doors ripped off, antenna and directional light lever snipped and air cleaner damaged.

A 1958 convertible sports car owned by Robert S. Clarke of Cuyler Hall, Princeton University, received a going over while it was parked behind the Ivy Club. Taken were the car's entire windshield, a metal frame for the convertible top and a license plate light were also smashed.

Detective Arthur Gallant of the Borough police is investigating.

To steal Good Humor Truck. A funny thing happened to John Nangle of Trenton as he was selling ice cream from the rear of his Good Humor truck in Princeton, Wednesday. A Prospect Avenue Campus Club; someone tried to steal his truck. Mr. Nangle fell as he tried to grab on to the moving truck, cutting his eye, elbow, nose and chin. He was treated at the University infirmary where he was held at $245 to $250 from the club. However, the student Jessie James, after driving a short distance, stopped the truck, jumped out and made good his escape.

APARTMENT ENTERED

THREE BOYS CONFESS

To Smashing Motors. Three Princeton juveniles, ages 14, 11, and 10 have admitted to smashing the mechanism of one meter in the Witherspoon parking yard and to taking the head of a second meter from the Chambers Street lot. They were scheduled to appear this week before referee Howard W. Siepp.

Pit Russell H. Shangle was responsible for their undoing. Thursday night, he noticed two youths crouching behind a parked car in the Witherspoon lot, one carrying a broken axle handle the other a piece of lead pipe. The following day when Borough police received a report of a smashed meter in the Witherspoon yard, Pit Shangle rounded the pair up, and got them to admit breaking the meter.

The two then involved the brother of one and he admitted being involved in the theft of the meter-head from the Chambers Street yard.

"LONGDRIVE" TO SUE

Township Involved. Longdrive Builders, whose principals are Lewis Kraft and Stanley Pibshaw, filed suit Wednesday in Superior Court against the Township Planning Board and Township Committee.

"Longdrive" plans a development of homes in the Horwotton Road-Autumn Hill area. The Planning Board and the township would have to pave a stretch of road which lies outside the development itself.

The contractors appealed this contingency to Township Committee, but Committee upheld the Planning Board and so Longdrive decided to take the matter to court.

Publicity Aids the Arts.

To the Editor of Town Topics: I find it a constant delight to observe the serious and enthusiastic support which the local newspapers give to community efforts in all fields of the arts. As an ardent supporter of — and participant in — P. J. & B., I am especially appreciative of the magnificent publicity that both Town Topics and The Packet have given "Wonderful Town."

No theatre group can survive without the ticket-purchasing public. Thank you for helping us to reach and enlarge the audience which has made this wonderful, expensive spring musical an annual tradition in Princeton.

ANNE SHELTON
(Mrs. F. R. Sheldon)
184 Clover Lane

Editor's Note: Occasional publicity in the public print is the due of any community enterprise. Persistent publicity, on the other hand, is based on merit of the degree achieved by Mrs. Sheldon and the many others responsible for P. J. & B.'s annual productions.

Appreciation Expressed

To the Editor of Town Topics: I want take this opportunity to express my profound appreciation to you for the honor which you bestowed upon me in my selection as "Princeton's Man of the Week" in the April issue of Town Topics. By State Board. A two-year community college has been approved for Mercer County by the State Board of Education. Plans call for construction of a 57 million college for 1,500 full-time and 3,000 part-time students, incorporating Trenton Junior College.

The board issued a report from the State Department of Education, which in turn had adopted most of the findings of a citizens survey group. The Mercer County Freeholders, who the matter will be put to public vote in November.

According to the Board of Education Report, Mercer County will have to float a $3.5 million bond issue to pay for its 50% share of construction. Annual debt service could run close to $300,000. Costs per student are estimated at $700, with county, state and students sharing the total. Dr. Frederick M. Rubinger, commissioner of education, told the board "Mercer County is in a particularly good position to establish a community college, because in Trenton Junior College, which does an excellent job it already has a going institution." Trenton Junior has an enrollment of 5,34 full-time students, 400 industrial arts students and 50 part-time and evening students.

The Department of Education report also stated that in 1965-66 the enrollment potential will be 3,000 full-time and 6,000 part-time students, double the capacity of the planned junior college.

$1.5 MILLION GIVEN To Aid University Library.
 Princeton University has allocated a $1.5 million grant from William W. Smith for support of the school library.

Mr. Smith, a Pittsburgh lawyer, died last September at the age of 83 and donated his funds without restrictions as to their use. The grant was disclosed at the mid-winter alumni meeting in February.

The university will set aside $1.5 million to be held in endowment and the income to be used for acquisitions and library operations. An equal amount will be added to the endowment and the income will replace the income from the university's general funds. The remainder will be used for library construction projects currently planned or underway.

Dr. William S. Dix, the university librarian, said the services will give special priority to the needs of the humanities. Before the Smith bequest, the library had a total endowment of about $3.5 million.

The funds will help meet the increased demands imposed by Princeton's continuing expansion, Dr. Dix said. The library has nearly two million volumes and is the largest open-stack research collection in the country.

White's Memory Honored
 A gift of $75,000 in memory of William T. White has been given to the Princeton Hospital Building Fund by Mr. White's widow, his daughter, Mrs. George R. White, and his son, Ferdinand R. White.

The money will underwrite part of the new patient care wing, according to George W. Conover, president of the hospital's board of trustees.

Mr. White, who died in 1957, was a member of Princeton Township Committee for 24 years and served as chairman, or mayor, of Committee for part of that time. He was also a school warden and vespertarian of Trinity Church and one of the founders of Trinity-of-the-Cove, Naples, Florida.

At all times he was on display in the lobby of the Trenton Trust Company through Friday, May 28.

The selection will be made this Friday and a reception will follow at the home of Mrs. Mary G. Roebing to honor the artist. Princeton representatives are William Baunton, Maxine Everett, Julian Gerny, Eugene Gillipie, Ben Koezlegh, Cintra Halter, Helga Kergard, Dagmar Tribble and Marie Sturcken.

SUPER SCHEDULED
 By Riverside PTA. The Riverside PTA will hold its annual supper Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the all-purpose room at the Riverside School.

The guests will include the Township Board of Education, Dr. John McKenna, Dr. David Lydyck and Norman Anderson. Following dinner there will be a short business meeting and officers for the coming year will be elected.

Yvonne Aaronson will entertain at the meeting with sections of Southern Mountain Folk songs. Committee members are Mrs. Norman Jackson and Mrs. Lloyd Vanant, hospitality; Mrs. George Warfield; floral arrangements; Mrs. Alvin Grahnen, table setting; and Mrs. Frank Reiche, chairman.

OFFICERS INSTALLED
 By Borough Teachers Group. The new officers of the Hightstown Teachers Association for the coming year have been installed.

APPROVAL GIVEN
 For Lawrence Nursery as well as a $1 million nursing home has received the approval of the Lawrence Township Zoning Board.

The development will be built by Joseph Mizur on a 36-acre site at Lawrenceville Quarry off Van Kirk Road. Approval of the zoning board depended on a guarantee that the project would not affect wells in the area.

Mr. Mizur plans to pump from 15,000 to 20,000 gallons a day from the quarry and residents feared that their wells might be drained. A letter from Joseph Miller, a geologist, was produced by Mr.

Mizur to show that there would be no effect on the wells. A pumping station will be built and the existing Lawrence Sewerage Authority's sewer line will be extended to the property. Mr. Mizur told the board. The project will contain 20 rooms and eventually Mr. Mizur hopes to develop a 100-room subdivision in the area. Construction of the nursing home should begin in the summer, according to the developer.

He will be joined in Series I by Herman Frey, baritone known for his interpretations of Leider, and the mezzo-soprano Marilyn Horne. In addition, Series II will present the Guarneri String Quartet and the Netherlands Chamber Orchestra with Solomon Goldberg as violin soloist and conductor. The Netherlands group is particularly well-known for its Baroque repertoire.

Subscribers to Series I will hear Victoria de los Angeles, the Spanish soprano; the 12 instrumentalists of I Solisti Veneti, whose Princeton appearance will be their American debut; the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra under William Steinberg; John Ogden, the pianist and Samuel Ashkenazi, violinist.

Subscriptions may be received by calling 924-0453 between 2 and 5 weekdays. May 31 is the deadline for the re-

Mr. Grove will play all 24 Chopin Preludes and the Prokofiev Piano Sonata Number 7. The pianist-teacher will join the faculty of Southern Methodist University, Dallas, where he will develop a teacher-training program similar to the one at the New School. Chorus, Too. All the young musicians at Valley Road School will gather, at one time or another, on the auditorium stage next Thursday for the annual Spring Concert.

The event, given each year under the guidance of Mrs. Edith Jeffries, vocal music, and Mrs. Virginia Switten, instrumental music, will be held this year at 8. Everyone is invited to attend.

Orchestra members will open the evening of music with the "Little Bach Suite," followed by Leconsa's "Andalusia Suite." MERCER TRACT BOUGHT
By William Bucci. The Princeton Company, 12 Nassau, has sold its "Stony Brook" tract on Mercer Road to the William Bucci Development Company. The selling price was not disclosed.

Mr. Bucci and his partner, Joseph Castore, plan a $2 million development on the land, and the first houses will probably be ready by fall.

The Princeton Company re-designed the property last year into two-acre lots in order to conform to the zoning ordinance. In addition, the company built a sewer line and brought a 10-inch water main from a about one and one-quarter miles away.

Mr. Bucci has established a trial office on Gallup Road in the tract.

SHE'S A WINNER: Mrs. Emily Stang, advertising manager of the Princeton University Store, won second prize in a nationwide merchandising contest sponsored by the National Association of College Stores. Mrs. Stang's entry won in a field of 39 contestants. She is shown here with Lou Quicke, Operations Manager of the "UP" Store.

Campaign. This included copies of advertisements presented in TOWN TOPICS and other Princeton newspapers, supplemented by her reasons for selecting this type of advertising and listing the various ways in which the campaign theme was carried out inside the store. Mrs. Stang also presented pictures of displays and window promotion used to support the campaign.

Mrs. Stang lives at 79 Kendall Road, Kendall Park, with her husband and two children. She has been associated with the University Store since February, 1964.

The National Association of College Stores has 1403 members and 350 associate members. F. J. Worthington, general manager of the University Store, is a former president of the association.

CONVOYER HONORED

By District Ford Dealers. George W. Conover, president of Nassau-Conover Ford, Route 206, has been elected to the 1965 National Ford Dealer Council by the dealers in his district. He will serve as chairman for the southeastern region for two years, representing Ford dealers on the Atlantic coast from Pennsylvania to Florida.

The council is composed of 21 members, 14 of whom have been newly-elected. As a new member, Mr. Conover will meet periodically with Ford Company management to discuss items of interest to the division's 6,400 dealers.

The Council's 21st annual meeting will be held next week in Dearborn, starting on Monday. Mrs. Conover will accompany her husband to the meeting.

HOME SALES BRISK

At Heathmeade. Sales of 34 homes in a custom community being built by William Schmal of Heathmeade have passed the half-way point.

Mr. Schmal said the success of the sales can be attributed largely to the location of the homes close to the shopping and commercial centers of Princeton yet in an atmosphere of country living. Four models of homes priced from $24,900 to $30,500 are being offered.

The most popular model is named the "Winthrop" and is of colonial design. Eight of the models have been sold. Heathmeade is located four

If you think you don't need disability insurance, you haven't seen the statistics.

Of 1000 persons aged 35, 33% will be disabled by illness or injury—for three months or more—before they reach age 65. That's what the statistics show. What kind of a statistic will you be?

It makes sense to look into a Manufacturers Life Personal Income Protector Plan. Nothing can give you such peace of mind as the sure knowledge that if you are disabled and cannot work, a guaranteed income will come your way.

Our Plan has many advantages. It offers you a wide flexibility in amount of income and the length of time it will be paid. For example, you may be able to arrange for income benefits right through to age 65 for total disability due to sickness or for life when an accident is the cause. Accidental death and dismemberment benefits to age 65 are also offered. You can co-ordinate the plan with your other resources; tailor it to your needs and your pocketbook. Manufacturers Life cannot cancel the policy nor can your premium rate be raised—ever. The plan can be adjusted to correct the inadequacy of any short-term coverage you already have.

If you are interested, call the Man from Manufacturers. When advising you on disability income he offers you the same competent counsel available to you when you are planning your life insurance security.

$2 million non-profit nursing care center near Princeton, N. J. offers unequalled care and comfort hospital-like features

The new $2 million Meadow Lakes Nursing Care Center in Hightstown, New Jersey—part of the magnificently landscaped Meadow Lakes Village retirement community—is now accepting resident nursing patients. This modern 90-bed Center provides—at reasonable cost—the most comprehensive nursing care available anywhere, combined with facilities and services usually associated only with hospitals.

Carefully observed. There are convenient floor kitchens in each wing.

The Center is non-profit and sponsored and operated by The Presbyterian Homes of the Synod of New Jersey, Inc. It is entirely non-sectarian. Private rooms are $165 per week; semi-private rooms $125 per week.

There are no extra charges. The basic rate includes round-the-clock nursing care, meals, and use of all medical facilities and services in the Center. Physicians and nurses are paid for by the patient, who may select his own physician, or use our staff members from the Princeton Medical Group.

Each spacious room is handsomely appointed and decorated and opens on landscaped courtyards and gardens. Every room has a lavatory, individually controlled heating and air-conditioning, private telephone, a direct patient-nurse Excitec communications system, built-in dresser and ample closet space. Beautiful public areas include 2 large solariums or day rooms and 2 patients' dining areas—all of which can also be used for TV and other social activities.

Patients may use the recreational and community services (barber and beauty shops, hobby and craft rooms, etc.) of Meadow Lakes Village.

Besides the cost advantages, modern medical and nursing facilities, and beautiful surroundings—it is the environment of competent, sympathetic, personal care which makes the Meadow Lakes Nursing Care Center so unique. As one of our residents put it, "Here I am treated as a friend—not a patient."

Please visit, if convenient, or write for further details—without obligation.

Work being shown in this exhibition is predominantly of "With Life and Figure." The old way to do it in a traditional manner and though her more recent work is what she describes as "more abstract and more stylized, she feels that she has not left the figurative approach.

Douglas Morris, well-known landscape painter from Princeton, will show his paintings at the Marcel Boyer Collection in Greenwich, Conn. through May 29.

Exhibit at Kaler's, Gallery On the Square (Kaler's) is exhibiting paintings, watercolors and pastels by J. M. Rodgers throughout the month of May.

Selig Weinberg, who has been blind for the past several years, owns and manages Trans Travel, Inc., at 1966 Springfield Avenue in Maplewood. In his business he needs to use the telephone a great deal.

A true story about an original idea— combining Braille with a telephone

Until recently Selig Weinberg had trouble trying to remember the many, many business phone numbers that he calls frequently. It was a problem that he mentioned to Jack Slattery, one of our Customer Sales Representatives.

Slattery had an idea: combine Braille with the Card Dialer phone—the telephone that automatically dials a number when a punched card is inserted into a slot.

On special tape Slattery punched out in Braille the names and addresses of the most frequently called numbers. Then he attached the tapes to the backs of the Card Dialer cards. It was a simple but ingenious solution.

These punched cards are now at Mr. Weinberg's fingertips—making it possible for him to telephone more conveniently. And many times the cards themselves serve as reminders to phone back or to try a busy number again.

Working out individual solutions to individual telephone problems is a big part of what we do at New Jersey Bell.

SPORTS In Princeton

SEASON FINES AN END

Most Teams Finish Saturday

A trip to Ithaca where it expects to wrap up the Ivy title with a victory over Cornell will complete the 1965 season for Princeton's lacrosse team. The baseball and track teams will likewise compete on the picturesque landscape above Cayuga's waters as the spring schedule nears an end about the same time the weather nears perfection.

Except for the ball team's few remaining games and the crew's participation in the national regatta at Syracuse on June 18, virtually all action will have ended by Saturday afternoon. The tennis team winds up with a trip to Dartmouth and Williams, the golfers finish this week with Navy and Rutgers. Regional and national intercollegiate remain, but the Tigers are unlikely to make an impression in them, as the basketball team did in March.

Another title for Thomson. Few coaches anywhere have mastered the habit of winning as well as Ferris Thomson, Princeton lacrosse coach. Successful the moment he hit the Princeton scene a decade and a half ago, he saw the first Ivy title get away from him the year the league became formal in 1956. He has never missed since.

The Tiger coach directed his teams to seven straight championships before becoming involved last spring in a three-way tie with Dartmouth and Harvard. The Crimson fell by the wayside early this season, and on Saturday, Thomson took care of Dartmouth. Now, the Tigers are the only unbeaten team in the league, and have only last-place Cornell to defeat in their final game this weekend.

The Dartmouth game on Camden Field, staged before an overflow crowd of 1,500, was a lacrosse oddity that is rarely duplicated in these days of open play. The 4-3 final for the Tigers was the lowest score recorded in Ivy action this season. In contrast, of the dozen games played in the tie that same day, only one winning team (Yale) also failed to reach double figures, the Pitt conquering Harvard, 9 to 3. Three teams which failed to win scored a dozen goals or better and there was a pair of action-packed, 13-all overtime ties.

Solid play by both goalies Graeme Flanders of Princeton and Brian Walsh, Dartmouth's all-Ivy not-minder) was responsible to some degree for the scarcity of goals, but neither team shot frequently or accurately.

POINT - BLANK ATTACK: Tino O'Brien (24) moves in on Dartmouth goalie Brian Walsh, although picking up some state from Indian midfielder Bill Wilkoff. O'Brien's goal at 11 minutes of opening period despatched the score at 1-1 in Saturday's game, and Tigers went on to win 4-3. (Randall Hagadorn Photo)

ately. Both attacking units felt the pressure of the title game and the defense had little trouble dominating action throughout the afternoon. Princeton outshot the Green, 37 to 28, with Flanders making 16 saves to 13 for Walsh.

Flanders had a momentary lapse 18 seconds after the game began, the Green scoring on a skip shot on which he was partially screened. Dartmouth's final goal came with 13 seconds left, so that for better than 29 minutes, the Tiger goalie allowed just one shot to find the target.

It took Princeton 11 minutes well at Ithaca Saturday, the 11th of the opening period to draw even, Tino O'Brien, high-scoring attackman, beating Walsh as he came in close from behind the cage. The Tigers then gradually took charge, holding a 2-1 lead at the half and adding a pair in the third period to raise their margin to 4-1 before the visitors narrowed the gap.

NINE HAS A CHANCE
But Only for a Tie. A tie that could involve as many as four teams is Princeton's lone chance of earning a share of the Eastern Baseball League title that has eluded it annually since 1953.

If the Tigers win from Cornell at Ithaca Saturday, the 12 points in the standings might be sufficient for a portion of first place with a combination of teams involving Army, Navy, Cornell and Dartmouth. As in hockey, standings are based on two points for a victory and one for a tie.

The "D" stands for Diesel... and for distance

It may be hard to believe that a car with the elegance and craftsmanship of the 190D could be so remarkably economical. But it's a fact. A very definite fact.

A 7,000 mile fuel consumption test by one of the country's leading petroleum marketers proved the 190D travels more than 30 miles per gallon. And Diesel fuel, available practically anywhere, costs about 40% less than gasoline.

One such involves Army, the cadets having had their May 7th game with Brown washed out at West Point. The Bruins have completed their schedule, are in the midst of exams and a new date is unlikely to be set.

The only team with one lost, Army could overcome this situation by winning its remaining games from Dartmouth and Navy.

A 2-0 defeat at Hanover last week erased Princeton's chances of outright victory. The Tigers collected just two hits and in the three games they have lost (to Navy, Columbia and Dartmouth), amassed the grand total of one run.

Friday brought another setback in the team's hopes for a berth in NCAA regional tournament play Memorial Day weekend. Rider College pounded out an 8-3 triumph on its Lawrence Township diamond, becoming the first team this season to drive sophomore Graham Marcott from the mound.

The Bruins added a four-run fourth to a lone tally in the first to score all they needed against the local weak slitt-chatter. Five Princeton infield errors marred the action as Rider coasted to its 10th straight victory after dropping its opener.

Tom Scott, who had been given no runs at all at Hanover, returned to the mound Saturday on Clarke Field and fared better against Manhattan. His mates got him six runs, a number of them on seven misplays, by the losers, and that just did stand up.

Working on three days of rest, Scott tired in the ninth. Marcott came on with the bases loaded and none out. Three runs scored and the tying marker was on third with two down when Marcott fanned the final batter to wrap up a 6-5 decision.

Tigers Blank Nonmouth. It's a long time since March, when John Redpath last started a game for Princeton, but the slim right-hander who has been overshadowed by Tom Scott and Graham Marcott hasn't forgotten how to pitch. Monday afternoon on Clarke Field, he blanked a Nonmouth College nine which came into the contest with a 13-3 record.

It was a 5-0 final, first baseman Pete Riley providing most of the fireworks with a triple and a homer which belied his .182 batting average. The Tigers collected eight hits, good for 14 bases as they raised their mark for the spring to 16-0.

Riley's three-base blow covered 370 feet to right center in the fourth inning, the tall southpaw, he's the punting specialist on the football team) scoring on a squeeze bunt by second.

FAITHFUL TO THE END: After one month of play, the current plight of the once-feared Yankees has not shaken the optimism of two of their followers, Glean Johnson (right) and John Valentine. Both maintain the Yanks will right themselves and win their sixth straight pennant. Results in the National League find John Valentine and Glean firm in his support as the Dodgers. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: After one month, have you changed your mind about who will finish first in the American and National Leagues?

Where asked: Around town.

John Valentine, 105 Dadds Lane, Princeton High sophomore: No, I'm still staying with the Yankees. Remember, they're playing without the best three players in the major leagues. When Mantle, Maris and Howard come back, I feel they'll mop up the rest of the league. I thought it was going to be the Cardinals in the National League but they seem to be floundering. I think I'd take the Reds now. It was a six-way race at the start but now it's between the Reds and the Dodgers and I don't think Koufax can carry the Dodgers the rest of the way. I would like to see the Yankees and the Reds in the series and - this is an answer to another question - I predict the Yanks will win it in four straight.

Glean Johnson, 56 Greenhouse Drive, Princeton High junior: I still think the Yanks will win. It's true, they haven't done too well; in fact, they've come so far that I feel they have no place to go but up. When all their injured players return, I feel the team will gain incentive and a championship job the rest of the season with Johnny Keane in there. I think Keane has been hampered a little because it's his first year with the team but he did a good job with the Cards and he has a lot of material and I don't see why he can't pull out another pennant. I've always gone with the Dodgers. I think they're a solid team. I believe Drysdale and Koufax can provide the pitching. Their hitting may be a problem but if they can't pull it out, I think they can clinch it.

Victor Sabary, Dutch Neck, self-employed: I'm a Yankee fan and although I picked them to finish first this year, I'm a little dubious about all the injuries and whether they'll make it now. Plus the fact that their pitching is inferior to last year's at this time. I think the White Sox have a good chance to take it away from them. I feel the Phillies originally in the National League but I think the Dodgers are going to hold up, my choice this year in Cincinnati. I think they'll come through with Sisler as their manager.

Howard Taylor, Little Rock, Hill, employee, Hill's Market: No, I still think the Phillies are going to win. Last year they got away to a fast start and then fell by the wayside this year, they're having their slump early and then they'll come on strong at the end. In the American League, it looks more like Chicago to me. The Yankees lost a lot of good men - Howard, Maris - and Loper isn't coming through at the plate like he did last year. The Yanks only won by one or two last year and they had a lot of good breaks, too. I don't think they'll be as lucky this year. I don't feel Minnesota will stay up there - they don't have the bench.

Oscar May, 43 Clay Street, parking attendant for PSU: I know it doesn't look good, but I still feel the Phils are going to come through in the National League. I think later in the season they are going to improve. In the American League, my choice at the beginning was Minnesota and I am still optimistic about them. I'm very anti-Yankee. I'm tired of seeing them monopolize this thing and I'm glad to see what's happening to them.

Eddie Gibson, Lawrence Township, manager of Bill's Men's Shop: No. Still the Yankees. Dollar for dollar, you can't beat them. The hot weather will separate the men from the boys. Maris and Howard will be back then. The Yankees about to accomplish something that's never been done before in the American League: win six straight pennants. I hate the Yankees, but let's get against them - never the Cardinals won only one or two only time they lost a pennant. I picked Cincinnati to win the first week and I'm staying with them. The Reds are still in first place pitching has improved, where I picked them at the start of the season. They'll still win it even without him. When you got the pitcher, you don't have to worry. Houston is still on Cloud 9.

Robert Ayars, 57 Jefferson Road, security guard: No, I still think the Yanks will finish first. They have been the top team for a long time; they've got what it takes to do it. I picked the Dodgers to win from the beginning but it's in the Yanks, that I can see. Possibility. I picked the Houston might come up and take it. I'd rather like to see the Mets win. Just because they've been the underdog for so long.

Robert Clark, 52 Birch Avenue, parking attendant: I pick the Phils in the National League now. I Baltimore to win. I don't think the Yankees will make first now. At least I have been hurt by injuries. Their pitching has been slow. I'm starting this year. I think now.

From an article on the seas we learned of another one of Nature's paradoxes. The coldest water found in the deep areas of the Atlantic (other than at the poles) is found directly under the equator, hottest area on earth. An under-water stream of Antarctic water flows north and at that point passes across the Middle Atlantic Ridge. In the depth of the ocean there is perpetual darkness, to which Nature seems to have adapted the creatures which live there. Many give off their own light; their luminous organs reaching a very high complexity, with reflective layers behind the light source to project it, and lenses in front with the entire mechanism under control of the creature. Come to think about it, we too try to project a light to you . . . one that points the way for you to save money with real bargains and complete satisfaction! Kammler Buick-Pontiac Co., Route 206, opp. Princeton Airport, 921-2222.

AFTER A SIXTH WINNER: If Lester Barlow, vice-president of the First National Bank of Princeton, presents a check to Richard J. Ward, president of the West Windsor Little League, for the support of the bank's team in 1955. The First National has sponsored a team for eight previous years and backed a league champion five times. The league owns a field on North York Road complete with dugouts and grandstand.

Dop Adams. Two rounds later, he hit a blast down the same alley that cleared the 400-foot sign—a good hundred feet more than is needed for a home run in many a major-league park.
Butlers, a 2-1 victim of the Tigers last month, was on the schedule Wednesday, with Trenton State due at Clarke Field this Thursday afternoon at 4. Two more triumphs—and there are half a dozen games left on the schedule—will give Princeton more victories than any year since 1951, when a 20 and 4 mark took the Orange and Black to the NCAA's in Omaha.

TIGER CREWS FALL
In Sprinkles at Worcester. None of the six Princeton crews finished better than third in its heat in the Eastern Sprint Championships at Worcester Saturday. In the 150-lb. race, this was good enough to qualify the freshman shell for the finals, but it then finished last among six entries.

In other heats: the jayvees '50s were sixth, the freshman heavies were fifth; the jayvees tied for third; and the varsity was fourth. As a result, the Tigers' total in cup competition at the 150-lb. level was one point and in the varsity, zero.

To no one's surprise, Harvard won both varsity races and both cups, the latter based on point standings compiled by all crews from each college. Cornell trailed the Crimson heavyweights by two and a half lengths.

Clear indication of the changes taking place in eastern rowing was provided by the presence in the finals of two colleges which are very much Johnny-come-lately on the rowing scene. Brown won its heat and was an impressive third behind Harvard and Cornell; Boston University was the sixth finalist, along with M.I.T. and Navy. In addition to Princeton, Yale not only failed to qualify but was beaten by Dartmouth, another college which has been a factor only in the post-war years.

TRACK TEAM SIXTH
In Heptagonal. Twenty-eight points brought sixth place to Princeton Saturday in the Heptagonal Games at New Haven, behind Harvard, the winner with a near-record total of 83; Navy, Cornell, Army and Yale.

The Tigers produced one triumph, sophomore Mel Branch in the triple jump. He covered 48 feet 2 1/2 inches.

Other sports last weekend, Princeton blanked Cornell in tennis, 9-0, but the golf team lost, 4-3 to Harvard. The match was played at Springfield.

GALLAGHER: 423 MILE
Bocconius Triple Winner. Asbury Park won its duel with Princeton High Saturday in a battle of umbrella track powers. Both 8-0, but the biggest fireworks were provided by Jay Gallagher and Vince Bocconius of Princeton. The scene was the first annual Central Jersey Group A Southern Division Track and Field Championship held at Ewing.

Ray ran the mile in 4:23.0, bettering the Ewing track record for that distance by 13 seconds and the Princeton school record, which he set a few weeks ago, by seven. His time is reportedly the fastest run by a high school miler in the state this year.

Vince Bocconius, in the face of stiff competition, won three events. In a virtuoso performance, Vince captured the 100 and 200 sprints and the broad jump. His times were 10.5, 23.0. His winning effort in the broad jump measured 20-6 1/4. A fifth outstanding performance was that of Bart Bennett in the 180-yard hurdle race. Both Bart and Asbury Park's Leon Sanders were timed in 1:84, but Sanders finished a halfpint in front. The time bettered Princeton High's previous record in the hurdle by three seconds. WOOD CHECKS DECLINE

 By Two-Hitting Noter Dame
 A fine, two-hit pitching effort by sophomore Tommy Wood, Tuesday was the balm that stopped the persistent swelling in the PHS lost column. The Little Tigers' third in 13 games, and it ended a three-game losing streak.
 Neither of the two hits figured in the three runs tallied by the home team as PHS won, 6-3. Wood can now claim two of his team's three victories. He has not lost.
 The Little Tigers served it up in the first inning when they scored four runs. Wood siding his own cause by singling home three. Three walks and singles by Curt Schaefer and Woody's blow. Curt Mitchell and Martin collected the other PHS hits.
 The previous day, Coach Harry Zoll's team lost any line of finishing with a 500 mark when it was defeated, 3-2, by the Little Tigers' turn to get only two hits. Paul Walsh's single drove in a pair of runs in the first inning; Mitchell got the second single. Chris Fischer (1-3) took the loss, as was relieved by Joe Harding who worked the last three innings, raising to 6 and 2-3 the innings he has not allowed an earned run. Franklin, Princeton's pitcher, had been earlier this year.
 Depending on whose scorebook you read, Princeton tied with three hits in its Thursday contest with Cathedral & PHS, 1. The game was played in Trenton.
 The Cathedral score gave pitcher Steve Selbita a no-hitter. Princeton's scorer, with somewhat more logic, gave it to Gil Turner, Ed Hull and Wabba. Howard Rifkin (0-3) absorbed the loss.

SLUM PROJECT BACKED

By Frontiersmen, This Saturday, a batch of 550 or more youngsters who live in the highest area behind the Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist, New Brunswick, will go on a bus trip to the Wayside Museum in the Watchung Mountains.

The great event in their small lives also marks the close of a Saturday afternoon recreation program which began last fall under the leadership of the Rev. Raymond E. Buntanest. St. John's, a supporting fund, pledged at up to $50 a month, cause of the New Brunswick branch of Frontiers International, at a service group headed by Carl Brown of 28 Birch Avenue. Other Princeton members include Braxton Ellerbe, Langford Bolling, Sherman Bates, Paul Mitnau and E. Lee Jones.

The Saturday afternoon sessions have been led by young volunteers from Douglass and Rutgers, with behind-the-scenes guidance from Dr. Bertram Gaskard of the Douglass faculty, a former social worker. The program is closing because the college students are scattering for the summer, although the Rev. Mr. Buntanest is "looking for people interested in kids who will donate some time" to keep things going.

"The value of this program is tremendous," Mr. Brown comments. "It is in the section of town where the children need help. Before this they had no place to play. They were able to keep them out of trouble. . . I think they are learning discipline and how to get along with other people."

According to the Rev. Mr. Buntanest, the program is "a drop in the bucket" serving only the grade school children within three or four blocks just as the Neighborhood House, which has a five or six day program, reaches only a couple of blocks around it. There is a need of a seven-day program at St. John's, he says, which would include pre-school and high school youngsters — currently neglected because "we can only do one thing at a time."

CONCERT PLANNED

By Handbell Choir. The Memorial Handbell Choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will close its fifth anniversary spring concert series with an informal program at 4 p.m. on Sunday at the Church. The community is welcome.

Organized in the spring of 1960 by Mrs. Kenneth Wirth, who has since become church organist, the choir has played for many and special services at St. Andrew's Sunday performance will be the choir's first full concert. The church. A varied program of music specially arranged for handbells is planned, followed by a reception.

During the past five years, the choir has played at Trenton State Hospital, Pocono Nursing Home, Merwick, Jamesburg State Home for the Blind, Princeton University Library Christmas program, Lawrenceville Prison for the Blind, First Presbyterian Church of Newark, Avenel Presbyterian Church and Princeton Methodist Church.

This year, performances were held at the Hunterdon County Grange, the mother and daughter banquet of Lord Bolling, Sherman Bates, Princeton Baptist Church and the New Jersey Eastern Star Home for the Aged, Somerset.

The handbell choir began with a set of borrowed bells. A set of 37 chromatic bells, each given as a memorial by members and friends of the church, was purchased from the White-chapel Bell Foundry in England in 1962. Last fall, three new bells were added.

REAL ESTATE

LIVING "HAPPILY EVER AFTER" should be easy in this charmingly appealing white brick and shingle charmer. Exactly as is, the house has a lot to offer a retired couple who have the feet of the country coupled with close-to-town convenience, but it could well be enjoyed for a family which wants a quiet, comfortable home.
Sunny and sparkling clean throughout, the first floor consists of large living-dining combination with fireplace, efficient kitchen, two rooms and bath. On the second floor is a lovely bedroom with easy fireplace, dressing room, bath and storage attic. Closets are all very nice.
Doors from the dining end lead out to a flagstone terrace, which is enhanced by pretty planting, fine trees and a distant view of a peaceful pond. Well back on a small road in a fine Township area, the setting is delightful.
Call without being remote.

Every few months we are privileged to offer an outstanding home such as this. This unusual all brick eight year old home has just come on the market as a result of the owners transfer. The kitchen, living room and formal dining room have real brick floors and eight 20' beaming radiators and have been used, yet thick. The tremendous stone fireplace with built-in iron mantel, weathered plank cabinetry, and wood box lends to the charming atmosphere. Notable view of Princeton is also evident in all elements and closets and rare imported tile accentuate their beauty. With all this plus three large bedrooms and a room for a fourth, two full baths and an oversized two-car attached garage, you'll have an extremely functional home as well as a showplace. CHARMING — here is a fine home that reveals a certain pride in ownership which you are aware of the instant you enter it. On a lovely lot in the Township, sloping down to a brook. 3 Bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths. Attractive living room, dining room, playroom, kitchen and basement. Big terrace off the family room. $35,400

RARELY have we seen a property where both land and house have been designed in such excellent taste. Ideal for a retired couple, or for young marrieds — as this home could easily be added to. Foyer, sunken living room with fireplace, dining room, a beautiful kitchen, a rear deck with your own view of the woods. 2 bedrooms, 2 baths. On 1 1/2 acres just west of Princeton. $36,000

NEW COLONIAL . . . nestled among beautiful shade trees on a 2-acre plot, this beautiful home has 5 bedrooms and 3 baths — plus maid's room and bath on the first floor. Huge living room with fireplace, paneled family room with built-in bar, dining room, kitchen with lots of breakfast space, laundry, mud room and large 2-car garage. The location, though, is what makes this property unique. Across the road from Stuart Country Day School, and near the new Princeton Day Schools, this is your opportunity to learn the advantages of the architect's new "campus concept" of country living. (Sole Agent) $89,500

MANOR HOUSE . . . this superb old Colonial dwelling is one of those places that everyone who dreams of living in the country would like to own. Only twelve minutes from Princeton, in real farming territory, it stands under magnificent shade trees, behind the long driveway that curves up to the front door. Inside, the beautiful living and dining rooms, the cozy paneled library, the very modern kitchen, the delightful game room with its bar, and its 6 bedrooms and 4 baths — all this lives up to the promise of luxurious living which strikes you when you first glimpse the place. You know that it must have plenty of land for privacy, and it does—33 acres, approximately . . . But you get the surprise of your life when you stroll out of the vast living room and into the indoor swimming pool annex. In its own brick structure, 60 feet in diameter, the heated pool is big enough for a platoon to splash in. And the flag-stoned terrace around the pool has enough space for them to sit and feast on steaks from the enormous built-in barbecue. (Sole Agent) $175,000

BUILD ON THE LAKE . . . gorgeous location, a steeply sloping lot to challenge your architect's imagination, and city sewer available so you can build at once. (Sole Agent) $20,000

Many fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
